

WHO ARE WE?

Located in the heart of Seattle, Innato is a woman-owned and led culinary consulting business designed to help our clients reach their elevated culinary goals.

Our five chefs with extensive culinary and food science backgrounds are eager to work with individual businesses to elevate their food products and menus and make their culinary aspirations a reality. They specialize in a wide variety of traditional and ethnic cuisines and market mostly to small and start-up restaurants and food and beverage brands.

Your partner for success.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

Innato,

the Spanish word for "innate", was chosen as our company's name because it speaks to the ability of our earth to naturally produce so many unbelievably flavorful food ingredients. Food is very important to us, and we want to portray to our clients that good food starts from fresh and high-quality ingredients in combination with simple but well-done cooking processes.
